Now for something a little different.
Look at the passages below. They are paragraphs of text that have been written with each part in the wrong order. Put them in the correct order.

1.

A/ "Don't worry my dear," answered her husband. "Just leave everything to me"

B/ Long ago in India, a pair of crows nested in a hollow tree above a fierce snake that used to eat young birds.

C/ "But that is impossible," said Mrs Crow "You know very well that he is much stronger than we are."

D/ "We must get rid of him, my dear," replied the father crow.

E/ "Oh dear, how can we stop this horrible snake eating our children?" said the mother crow one day.

Tip: Focus on what you think the text is about and put the sentences into a logical order. Work actively using logic and trial and error.

Put a number 1-5 after each letter below to show the correct order.
